

Our campus Pastor has the conquering spirit of Russell Crowe in Gladiator. His passion for justice is like Kurt Russell in Tombstone. Well, that's what he keeps telling us! Actually he's a pretty average guy with a life impacted by God. He's probably more like John Belushi in Blues Brothers, definitely on a mission from God.

Marshall grew up apart from God and found Christ as a 15 year old freshman in high school. He soon led 5 of his friends to the Lord and felt the call of God to go into ministry. After leading hundreds to Christ and over 20 years of Pastoral experience in local churches, Marshall connected with the team of leaders who launched ANEW Church in Enid, OK. His first role was to develop the band, but soon took on the challenge of lead Pastor.

Although he attended Bible College and received ordination, he is not the "pious clergy" type of pastor. Marshall has a heart to connect with bikers, brawlers, barhopping, tattooed, heavy metal, pierced outcasts who are seeking more out of life. Maybe this comes from his own life experiences of pain, failures, "prodigal son" behavior and brokenness where he found acceptance, hope and peace through Christ.

God has given him a vision to reach the city of Enid through the unconventional style of ANEW Church. He passionately pursues team leadership principles and relationship building as the foundation for ANEW Church values. His awesome wife Tasha partnered with him in 1998 and they adopted 3 incredible kids, Skyler, Alex, and Korbin.
