I just lost my husband 4/1/17. I'm a widow at age 39 but worse...my children no longer have a Daddy at ages 12, 8, 7. But I will not look to what is seen, WE will focus on Jesus. We will not lose heart! We are reaching as many lost souls to plant as many seeds in their hearts as possible 🙏🙏🙏❤️ We will praise Your Holy Name Father

I'm going through the most painful thing I have ever experienced in my life; the separation from the woman I've loved and been married to for 10 years, and man it hurts to see her with another guy! It hurts even more than the death of my dad some years ago; and yesterday I had decided to give up on God and life. I needed to get this pain away some how, and whatever the devil brought my way, I was going to take it, even if it meant destruction to my already long time beaten body. So I said unto God: "Lord if you don't do something now, I won't be able to do this alone any longer!"; and it was then right before shutting off my computer and going out to get drunk, when God made me come across this song that shook my soul from within! God bless these Holy Spirit gifted musicians! Thank you so much for such beautiful and true lyrics! Thank you Jesus for being faithful, despite I don't understand what is happening, you will not fail me and you will not leave me alone! Though you slay me...though you take from me...though you ruin me, still I will worship; sing a song to the one who is all I need...

I lost my husband of 28 yrs. in Aug. 2014 due to cancer. I am a young widow and the loneliness is sometimes too much to bear. This song reminds me that my Father God is enough for me and I pray in His time, I will love again. But until that time..... He is enough for me.

I don't think I've ever realized how beautiful it could be to be in such a tough time. Here I am crying about my own sadness when there could be so much more. I've just started college, I feel alone, as if the world that I knew is 10,000 miles away. I feel worthless and guilty for who I am as a person and it is so hard for me to accept the love that God has poured out around me. I don't understand why He would love me, I don't understand why I am here, or why God would move me where I feel like I had nothing. But I do understand that He has not forsaken me. I understand He is loving me through the people around me and that breaks my heart. Oh goodness, I will ever praise Him. I don't understand but goodness do I want Him more than I want the air around me. Praise God for this empty hole, because without it I would never have realized that I needed Him to fill it. Though I don't understand, I will praise Him. "It's doing something, it's not meaningless. Of COURSE you can't see what it's doing!"

Habakkuk 3:17-19 New International Version (NIV) 17 Though the fig tree does not bud and there are no grapes on the vines, though the olive crop fails and the fields produce no food, though there are no sheep in the pen and no cattle in the stalls, 18 yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will be joyful in God my Savior. 19 The Sovereign Lord is my strength; he makes my feet like the feet of a deer, he enables me to tread on the heights.

though you have taken away my husband,the man that loves me more than I could fathom,father I will praise you and I will lift you up. I don't understand why,but if you hold me and be with me,then together we will overcome the world. This world is still a mystery,but one day my husband will see you and I will see you.

Thank you for posting this song... I've been away from the faith for a year now, I guess I got tired, or I've had enough and I felt like I have no rest. And somehow it seems like the only rest, real Sabbath I can get is if I leave the church once and for all. But as I left the church, I slowly drifted away... until this song reminded me of who I am/who I was. And I miss the real me. To God be all the Glory!

This truth pierces my heart in a very good way. Can't wait to stand before my GOD and realise that those things I thought were evil, he anyway used for the good. He is good above all! "For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory; While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." ♥ - 2 Corinthians 4:17-18

My 21 year old daughter ended her life 15 months ago. She knew Jesus but she also knew utter despair. We believe she is now with Christ - "fully alive, safely home, and finally free" - and we look forward to seeing her again. My family has found the grace of God which has sustained us day by day, night by night, moment by moment. "Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him."

I lost my wife, my best friend, my soul mate on 11/11/17. I felt dead inside. I still feel this way. But I'm looking to God for healing. My world has been crushing and my heart broken in a billion pieces. This was sudden. No warning. All pain. Her brother reached out with this song and I haven't stopped crying since. This song hit me hard. I'm trying to let God in my life more and more. Glory be to God!

My friend just delivered his premature daughter at home. She died in his arms. I never thought my heart could break so much over and over. Help me pray for peace.

"Not only is your affliction momentary... Not only is your affliction light in comparison to the eternal weight of glory, but it is totally meaningful!" These words have carried me through betrayal, divorce, my son fighting cancer, losing friends and jobs... Everything Satan meant for evil, God can use it for my good... He can make it meaningful and beautiful!! ♡ ♡
